The Right of Every Child

A child's right is this: Schooling which spurs the mind and stimulates desire to learn; instruction which rests upon that all-important factor—the teacher's personality!

After all, there is nothing about the highly polished case of a large upright piano to inspire a class of children. Close, personal contact between teacher and class is not only to be desired—it is necessary to any program of progress.

Then, why deny a child efficient music instruction when a small piano would multiply your teaching powers—would give every pupil an enthusiasm which would treble the profit of the music hour?

The MIESSNER Piano

"The Little Piano with the Big Tone"

This marvelous instrument puts new life into school music! You move the Miessner right out in front of the class. As you play you face every pupil in the room. There's spirit in every song, for the children follow your lead—catch your enthusiasm!

10 Days' Free Trial — Reduced Price To Schools

Miessner quality is high — its tone, construction and finish compare with the best known grand pianos on the market. There are three strings for each treble note. Bass strings are copper wound. Keyboard is full seven octaves; keys full size. Yet, with all its exclusive constructional features and advantages, this marvelous piano costs even less than the ordinary upright.

The Victrola XXV

(Special for schools)

This is the instrument that many years' experience has proved best adapted to all general school work

It combines every desirable feature for all educational purposes

Portability

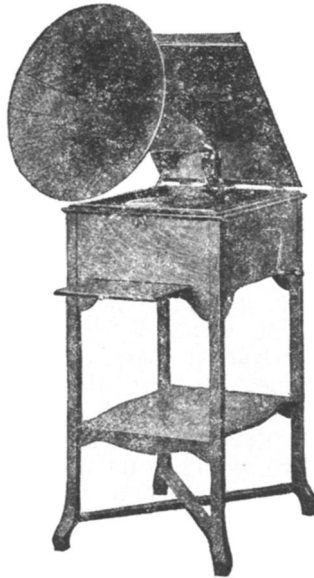

Dome silencers are attached to the legs to facilitate sliding over floors from room to room. It is light, but firm, and easily carried up and down stairs or out on the playground.

Volume

The large oak horn, enlarged tapering tone-arm and improved tapering goose-neck sound-box tube produce a clarity and volume of tone that is unexcelled for classroom, auditorium, or playground.

Beauty

The enlarged case and horn are of beautifully grained fumed oak, against which the nickel fixtures stand out in attractive contrast. The symmetry and simplicity of design make this instrument a dignified accoutrement for any school room.

Durability

It stands solidly on its own frame of sturdy oak, not on a detached separate cabinet. Its finish resists finger marks and blemishes, and will stand up well with frequent handling.

Adaptability

Through use of the loud and soft tone needles, this instrument will reproduce the softest musical nuance in the large auditorium or modify the loudest volume for the small room.

Convenience

A sliding shelf accommodates the records which are under consideration. There is a lower shelf, which when lifted provides storage space for the horn when not in use. The cover has lock and key, is attached by adjustable hinges, and may be taken off and hung on the back of cabinet, enabling the horn to swing in any direction.

New Columbia Records for Kindergarten and Primary Grades

Every teacher appreciates the value of phonograph records that have been made specially for children in Kindergarten and Lower Grades. These eight double-disc records, thirty-two selections, were recorded under the direct supervision of the teachers in Kindergarten, Horace Mann School, Teachers College, Columbia University, New York City. The selections have been used many times with groups of children, and care has been taken to have the tempo of the recordings the same as the tempo used with the children in their daily work. The music for Appreciation, Interpretation, Marching, Band, Skipping, and Lullabies is justified by the standard of quality, as well as by the appeal to the children in their present experiences. The selections are short because a child's interest is not held for a long period. The few instruments used in the recordings give a volume of tone loud enough for the ordinary class-room, but at no time is the music exciting or confusing.

A booklet describing the use of these records will be sent, free, upon request.

The Singing Spirit

Recent national events have stimulated to a high degree the "singing spirit" and music educators have been quick to capitalize this nation-wide interest in MUSIC.

They realize the opportunities of the High-School Chorus Period: that it should be devoted not to singing rounds and semi-popular songs, but that young people should have that opportunity to participate in singing music of genuine merit.

STANDARD SONG CLASSICS

has steadily grown in favor, and this past year has witnessed its adoption in a large number of schools because it offers selections (with orchestrations published separately) from Abt, Bach, Beethoven, Bizet, Brahms, Chopin, Donizetti, Franz, Ganne, Gounod, Grieg, Händel, Hullah, Jakobowski, Mascagni, Mendelssohn, Meyerbeer, Moskowski, Mozart, Pinsuti, Radecke, Reeves, Rossini, Rubinstein, Saint-Saëns, Schubert, Schumann, Strauss, Sullivan, Streletzki, Tschaikowsky, Verdi, Wagner, Waldteufel.

IN A FLOWER GARDEN

A JUVENILE OPERETTA IN 2 ACTS

Written by Edith M. Burrows Music by W. Rhys-Herbert

Vocal score, 75c net

The operetta represents one day in the life of the Flowers of the Garden. They are awakened by the Bird Voices, given a drink by the Dews; they play with the Sunbeams and then greet the Dawn. Fair Weather comes and brings with her the Little White Clouds. Butterflies visit the Flowers and then Noon arrives. Winds whisper to the Flowers of the approach of the Storm Clouds and Rain; the enemies of Fair Weather and the Little White Clouds. The latter are driven away for awhile, but soon return with Rainbow Tints. Then Sunset and Dusk visit the Flowers, who are finally lulled to sleep by the Fireflies.

SELECTIONS USED IN THE OPERETTA

Pinafore: We Sail the Ocean Blue, I Am Called Little Buttercup, I Am the Captain of the Pinafore, A Maiden Fair to See, Over the Bright Blue Sea, I am the Monarch of the Sea.

Pirates of Penzance: When the Foeman Bares His Steel, A Policeman's Lot is Not a Happy One, With Catlike Tread, Here's a First-rate Opportunity, I Am a Pirate King, Ah! Leave Me not Alone, Hail Poetry.

Patience: Prithree, Pretty Maiden, The Magnet and the Churn.

Iolanthe: We Are Dainty Little Fairies, The Law is the True Embodiment, None Shall Part Us.

Mikado: Three Little Maids from School, My Object All Sublime, Behold the Lord High Executioner, Taken From a County Jail, Tit Willow.

A delightful new story involving 25 of the best-known characters in the operettas named above, in which the good ship Pinafore undertakes to capture the Pirates of Penzance. Twenty-one of the beautiful Gilbert and Sullivan songs, related to the new situations and bound together by events which utilize the familiar characteristics of the various personages here re-introduced.

Simple to stage with large or small chorus as desired.
